

~Announcing~
PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT WORKSHOPS
as related to the
Arkansas River Corridor Master Plan Study
in compliance with
The National Environmental Policy Act

Open House

The Indian Nations Council of Governments (INCOG) will host five public participation workshops to provide public information about the preparation of the Arkansas River Corridor Master Plan for the river segment in Tulsa County from Keystone Dam to the Wagoner County line and to solicit comments and questions from the public on the project. The workshops will be open house format, with no set or formal presentation. Interested persons may arrive anytime between 5:30 – 8:30 p.m., visit the information tables, discuss the study with project personnel and make comments. The workshops will be held at the following locations:

Bixby	Monday, March 22	Bixby Community Center Meeting Rooms #1 & 2 211 N. Cabaniss Bixby, Oklahoma
Sand Springs	Tuesday, March 23	Sand Springs Plaza Community Center 420 Plaza Court Sand Springs, Oklahoma
Tulsa	Wednesday, March 24	Tulsa Central Library Aaronson Auditorium (basement level) 400 Civic Center Tulsa, Oklahoma
Jenks	Thursday, March 25	Jenks City Hall – Council Chamber 211 N. Elm Jenks, Oklahoma
Broken Arrow	Friday, March 26	Broken Arrow Community Center 1500 S. Main Street Broken Arrow, Oklahoma

Scoping Process

In support of the Greater Tulsa Area Vision 2025 initiative, INCOG is directing the development of a Master Plan for the Arkansas River Corridor within Tulsa County. One of the objectives of INCOG is to work closely with interested parties to identify promising river corridor development alternatives that consider economic development, environmental quality and social well-being. The five public participation workshops will solicit input on the existing conditions along the river corridor, opportunities and constraints for all types of development project visions or ideas, and other factors relating to future development or conservation of resources in the corridor. We value your comments and input into this important process and encourage all interested persons to attend. Comments and questions can be forwarded to:

Mr. Gaylon Pinc, P.E.
INCOG
201 W. 5th, Suite 600
Tulsa, OK 74103
Phone: 918-584-7526
E-mail: gpinc@incog.org